

The Company Vision International People Group is one of the largest companies that currently offers the world market a wide range of health care and longevity products. Its mission statement is: "We Build Healthy Businesses!" that is to say, our business is about reliability, long-term commitment to its clients, profitability, and health, which is, after all, the main need every human being has as his or her top priority. Since its inception on the 14th of July 1996, the Company has been unswervingly committed to creating a new world culture of health as an absolute priority for the individual and for society in general. Hence the Company's core lines of business, products it distributes, and services it delivers.

High quality goods with the Vision International People Group trademark are promoted and marketed by means of direct marketing through a network of independent distributors. This method is called Net Work Marketing.

At the present time, the impact the network marketing industry has on our economic and social lives goes way beyond simply satisfying consumers' regular demands. Network marketing offers a promising alternative or even better a great complement to traditional forms and methods of doing business, and we see conventional companies increasingly using this powerful tool to effectively market their goods and services in order to be leaders in the market.
